

Jamie Ansonge Named One of Cannabis Industry Power Players by PoliticsNY

Monday, January 24, 2022

Jamie Ansonge, Principal in Cozen O'Connor New Public Strategies group, has been recognized by PoliticsNY as one of the Power Players in the Cannabis industry. Jamie has counseled several of the world's leading cannabis companies, including Canopy Growth, Curaleaf, and Dutchie, on the New York market. He was deeply involved in efforts to pass legislation on hemp and CBD products that preceded the Marijuana Regulation and Taxation Act, and was active in adult-use legalization efforts as well.

Among the recognized Power Players, which include "state and local officials, regulators, investors, legal advisors, and cannabis industry visionaries" who "came together to guarantee that New York State and its residents will reap the benefits – medical, social, and financial – of cannabis" is also Eric Adams, Mayor of New York City. To learn more, click here:

PoliticsNY Cannabis Industry Power Players

Related Practice Areas

- Government Relations - Cozen O'Connor Public Strategies