Vivien Krieger, Rachel Scall, and Meenakshi Srinivasan participated in a lunch and learn at Marvel Designs that explored the City of Yes initiatives, focusing on the City of Yes for Housing Opportunity zoning reform proposal. The proposal, which would be the largest comprehensive overhaul of the zoning regulations since 1961, was recently approved by the City Planning Commission and is now being considered by the New York City Council. Vivien, Rachel, and Meenakshi discussed hot button issues such as how housing production could be impacted if the proposal is approved by the City Council.
