

Boulder

Cozen O'Connor opened its Boulder office in 2023 to better serve its regional, national, and international clients with their intellectual property needs. Named the world's "fastest rising tech hub" in 2020 by Technology Magazine, Boulder is home to many startups and investors, making it America's "Startup Capital" according to Inc. magazine. Our Boulder IP attorneys have decades of experience as counsel, IP advisers, and government regulators. They counsel a range of domestic and international clients on all aspects of patent, trademark, copyright, trade secrets, and unfair competition.

Cozen O'Connor's intellectual property attorneys are committed to protecting the rights of innovators, the power of ideas, and a fair marketplace for intellectual property assets. The firm maintains a soup-to-nuts model because, quite simply, that's what's best for clients.
