

Thomas G. Wilkinson Discusses New York Ethics Rules in Litigation News

Tuesday, September 10, 2013

In an article titled “Lawyers’ Duty to Disclose False Evidence May Extend Indefinitely,” Thomas G. Wilkinson, of Cozen O’Connor’s Commercial Litigation Department, discusses New York Ethics Rules regarding the lawyer’s obligation to circumvent his or her duty of confidentiality and disclose a client’s criminal or fraudulent conduct.

To read the full article, click here.

Thomas G. Wilkinson, Jr.
Member

twilkinson@cozen.com
Phone (215) 665-3737
Fax (215) 701-2437